SNAKE IN HIS BOOT.

Liller Deviates From Usual Remedy for Bite, Using Turpentine

CUMBERLAND Md Sept 15—Sanford Liller of Cross W Va left his foot bone in the kitchen oven milk and in the morning when he put them on felt what he supposed was a piece of canvas lining rolled up in one of them.

Liller took off the boot and thrust his right hand into it when a copper head snake bit his forefinger. Liller quickly applied spirits of turpentine to the wound which constricted the effects of the poison and killed the snake.

McClean quoted further and from his questioning it seems apparent that he intends to have the two witnesses called to support the story of the killing by four men one of whom was Mondello the other three escaping to the old country. No evidence along this line has been offered but the drift of the examination points in that direction. Mondello denied having ever made the statement.

Mondello testified that the Turners came to the jail on the second day of his confinement and promised that they would see that he would get out.

Under the severe cross examination to which he was subjected he became mixed up several times in the details as he has previously stated them but in every essential he stuck to the story that the Indians had plotted to planned the murder of Captain Mondello and had compelled him to carry it out.

TUESDAY EVENING, SEP. 15, 1908.

THE MAINE RESULTS NOT DISCOURAGING.

The result of the election in Maine may not have been all that the Republicans would have liked, but if it is significant of national results in November it is quite sufficient to indicate Republican success.

The Republican ticket throughout is elected by pluralities estimated at $3,000 in the face of the fact that local issues caused Republican losses. The Republican plurality in 1904 was $2,000, but that was a tidal wave year. In 1906, the Republican plurality was but $8,000.

Colonel Bryan is reported to be "very much gratified" with the returns seeing in them the trend toward the Democratic party all over the country. Republicans, however, recall that Colonel Bryan was beaten in 1896, and they believe he will be beaten again in 1908.

The trend does not trend tremendously enough to terrorize Taft.

THE SAME OLD BRYAN; UNSAFE AND UNDESIRABLE.

Mr. Bryan demands that Mr. Taft "commit" himself. Mr. Bryan is "committed" to so many dead and rotten issues that he longs for company. The issues to which Mr. Taft is committed are for the most part successful issues and all are very much alike. Mr. Bryan has dropped many of the unsafe and erroneous propositions of his callow statesmanship, but he has lost none of his demagogic tendencies. Here are a few samples from his most recent utterances:

Mr. Taft believes that the labor organization should come under the operation of the anti-trust laws, thus dealing a death blow to the labor organization as if they were merchandise, for the anti-trust law deals with the monopoly of the products of labor. Mr. Taft also proposes to put in cases of industrial contempt, a safeguard which is guaranteed to every man tried in a criminal court. Mr. Taft's views in regard to the use of injunctions in labor disputes.

The anti-trust law deals with all men alike, not with merchandise of any sort. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Gompers would have it deal with everybody but the Gompers family. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Gompers would have the power of the courts to issue injunctions and enforce decrees suspended in all cases wherein, not "the laboring man," but the wallowing bosses, are concerned. Mr. Taft does agree with "the laboring man" in regard to the use of injunctions, for the laboring man is for the most part an honest citizen who believes with Mr. Taft that everybody should be equal before the law; but Mr. Taft does not agree with labor union bosses like Mr. Gompers, who, drunk with long-continued power, imagine they are above the law.

Bryan is the same old Bryan, unstable and unsafe, un-Democratic and undesirable.

THE EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDE.

The epidemic of suicide which is sweeping over the country illustrates the fact that mankind is prone to avoid hardship and trouble; that the hardy spirit of our ancestors has in a measure departed from us leaving a race of weaklings without stout hearts and responsive energies to meet hard conditions. It looks like the degeneracy of diseased minds in diseased bodies.

It also argues a decreasing fear of that old-fashioned damnation which we have been taught was the portion of all who did not walk strictly in the path of righteousness.

Life is full of joys and sorrows. It is well to enjoy the one and meet the other with fortitude, and above all to remember that, "The coward sneaks to death; the brave live on."

RELIGION AND POLITICS.

Religion and politics are wholly foreign to each other in this country, yet religion has been injected into politics with startling effect. "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" beat James Gillespie Blaine for the Presidency and there have been other causes less noteworthy but no less effective.

This disposition on the part of the clergy to exercise temporal as well as spiritual power is happily not common and it is becoming less marked and much less effective than formerly. There is a growing feeling in this country that the pulpit has no place in politics.

We understand there is some attempt to inject religion into the present campaign. Those responsible for this movement had better beware its effect, which is usually disastrous to those employing it.

If anybody ever doubted the ability of Bill Taft to speak for himself his doubts have been effectively dispelled.

The oratorical slugging match of the two Bills is one of the greatest in political history. The chief feature of the fight thus far has been the number of body blows received by Bill Bryan and his wonderful wind.

Some American people did their best to prevent war with Japan, while others did their best to bring about trouble between Great Britain and Germany. The business of preventing war is now, however, encouraged among the hillbills.

The Big Stick has made its appearance in the campaign.

The News advocates the canalization of the Yough in its editorial column while its cartoonist ridicules the idea. The paper is evidently the canalization scheme has not the half-hearted support of the hillbills.

The weather man promises rain, "not yet but soon."

With the aid and consent of Labor Boss Gompers, Political Boss Bryan has found a new democratic niche to sit in and vary with The Common People. He has much to say in this campaign about the Laboring Man. This is the case. Bryan has endeavored to impress the members of the window glass workers' unions as "public beggars."

Some of the coke companies are shutting down for good.

Judge Umboldt rebuked a fish warden for making looking somewhat. That's right. Fishing is a serious matter.

There was a hot time in the old town of Mount Pleasant Saturday night.

The Kognedy crowd didn't let that Greene county coal option get cold.

It is perhaps appropriate that Greene county's largest coal development promises to be by the Emerald Coal Company.

The medical men are at Cambridge Springs taking water.

Taft has been in Tennessee. He hasn't sight Kentucky.

A wheeling man was so overcome at the sight of Bryan that he kissed him. When Bryan comes to Fayette county, he had better keep his eye on L. Lester Kotter.

Editors Watterson, Pulitzer and McLean are on the Bryan Band Wagon, but they are not tooting very loud.

The carnival seems to make good business for the police courts.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTTDALE.

United Brethren Ministers Leave for Annual Conference Tomorrow.

WILL BE HELD AT CONEMAUGH.

Dr. James P. Strickler Attending Medical Convention—Birthday Party for Mrs. Lowry—Pastor Steelsmith is Returned—Other Notes.

SCOTTDALE, Sept. 15.—Dr. James P. Strickler went to Cambridge, Mass., yesterday to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Society, which will be in session on those days this week and particularly to attend the Society's annual convention, which is a part of the general meeting. Dr. Strickler is secretary of the Westmoreland County Association and will read a paper on the duties of the secretary to the convention.

Leave for Conference.

Rev. W. W. Williamson pastor of the First United Brethren church of Scottdale, Rev. J. S. Hayes pastor of the Union United Brethren church, and Rev. J. L. Leichter pastor of the Mt. Nebo and Ovensdale United Brethren churches, came to-morrow morning for Connemaugh where the 70th annual conference of the denomination will be held. Albert Klaesel will accompany them as the delegate from the Scottdale church. Rev. Mr. Williamson is scheduled to address the men's meeting at the U. S. Methodist Episcopal church of Connemaugh on Sunday afternoon. On account of the conference there will be no services at the U. B. church next Sunday.

A Birthday Party.

In honor of Mrs. G. W. Lowry of Somerset county, who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. G. D. Pyle, a party was given yesterday, the time being Mrs. Lowry's 70th birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Pyle had a number of friends to dinner, several guests being present from Mr. Pleasant. A very enjoyable time was had.

Pastor is Returned.

Rev. P. D. Stinchurch, pastor of the United Evangelical Church on Archibald avenue, reached home yesterday evening from attending the conference of his church held at Franklin. It will be good news to his many friends throughout this section that he is to be the minister here for another year. Rev. Steelsmith is a very busy worker and lately he has been in poor health, but his health is perceptibly improved and he is on the way to mending. He reports that the drought about Franklin is in every way as serious as it is here. The ride to and from the conference, he says, was so dusty that there would be much comfort to be gained from a return to the wearing of the old-fashioned linen duster that years ago was a feature of travel, and which has recently been taken up by automobileists.

Home From Brownsville.

Miss Etta Benson has returned home from a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Edmiston of Brownsville. She was accompanied by Mrs. Edmiston and the latter's daughter, Mrs. M. R. Jacobs. Mr. Jacobs brought the party over in his automobile and they are the guests of Mrs. M. L. Newcomer of Chestnut street.

GIANTS, CUBS OR PIRATES IN GREAT NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE?

Managers Give Their Opinions and Pulliam Says Americans Will Beaten in World Series.

Will the Giants, the Cubs or the Pirates lead the National League next year? With only a score of points separating the three leaders interest all over the country is at fever heat.

Opinions gleaned from managers of all the National League clubs give the Giants a slight edge. The opinions follow:

McGraw, New York. We've got a first-rate fighting chance. It's going to be an awful battle to retain first place. I wish that we were stronger in the box.

Chance, Chicago. My own team will win. New York will give us an awful tough fight, but I think we'll beat them out.

Claude, Pittsburgh. I'm hoping the Pirates will win. We have as good a chance as the Giants or the Cubs, and I think Chicago has a slight bunch on the Giants.

Dowhan, Brooklyn. I hope the Giants will win. It's a tough proposition to pick the winner.

McCloskey, St. Louis. New York has a shade the best of the chances owing to the Giants. Large numbers of home games. The Cubs, however, seem to have a pretty even show.

Murphy, Philadelphia. Don't count us out of the race. The club that wins will have to beat us out.

Kelly, Boston. New York, Pittsburgh or Chicago may win out, but New York has the advantage.

Ganzel, Cincinnati. The Cubs will win the pennant again this year.

Pulliam, President National League. The race is too close to pick a winner, but whichever club wins will beat out the American League winner for the world honors.
